

L'Dor V'Dor

L'Dor V'Dor is a phrase that translates to 'from generation to generation.' It is often understood to mean the passing of cultural traditions to one's children and grandchildren, but also highlights the importance of intergenerational relationships. It can mean everything from passing on recipes to visiting older family members.